Since the origin of our establishment, we have had in view, and have strictly adhered to three distinct purposes in our manufactures, viz: Economy in price, Improvement mirably all the requisites to skarpen and set razo's with a of quality and taste, and the perfecting a STANDARD OF fine and smooth edge. It is a real comfort to possess it. FASHIONS FOR THE UNITED STATES, independent of the European, all of which have been successfully effected, resulting in a most important saving to the comeffected, resulting in a most important saving to the com-munity at large, and an equally satisfactory remuneration the same effect on a razer as a hone, without using oil or to ourselves, consequent upon the extensive patronage water, and in quarter of the time. After five year's trial the first issued, as usual. which we have rescived.

Our improved FIVE DOLLAR HATS, so superior in material, elegance of style and perfect finish, that immediately upon their introduction, they became not only preeminent at home, but celebrated in London and Paris, and elicited the highest encomiums of the Press there, soon superseded the $10 Hats previously worn here by the first class of our citizens. This article, now fully established as the highest standard, is so extensively known and univer sally approved by the fashionable and genteel wearers and true economists, that we will not now allude further to iss merits, except to announce that we have improved its beauty and value the present season beyond any that we have heretofore produced.

At the urgent selicitations of many of our customers, who were anxious to economise in the first cost, and yet desirous to avail themselves of the peculiar style and finish characteristic of our fabrics, we have for some time past made diligent efforts to accomplish their wishes, and consequently have just perfected the new article of Hats as announced above. They will be composed of superior materials, the workmanship will be of the first order, and although fully equal to Hats formerly retailed at $6 and $7, they will be sold at $3,62\frac{1}{2} each, a price not only commensurate to the present pecuniary depression, and far less than their intrinsic worth, but infinitely cheaper, when the respective qualities are compared, than any which have ever before been offered to the public.

Purchasers are assured, in advance, that these Hats will not incur the objection, viz: " dear at the price," currently argued against most low priced goods. LEARY & CO. Astor House, Sept. 15th, 1842. s19 6tis

Er Fall Style of Gentlemen's Hats. -BIRD. corner of Pine and Nassau-streets, has now ready for inspection and sale the Fall Standard Pattern for Gentlemen's Hats. September I. sl F,S,M&W* Hats. September I. Spencer, Hatter.

To the Gentlemen of New York :

$5) demands from us a thorough review of its main positions, and a refutation of its unfair insinuations. The lan guage of said advertisement is-Since the origin of our es. to, three distinct purposes in our manufacture, viz : Economy in price, improvement of quality and taste, and the per-fecting a standard of Fashions for the United States, independent of the European. First-" Economy in price." A short reference to the history of that concern will sufficiently show the claim to be entirely unfounded. The first act of said House, was to raise the price of the muskrat napped bat from $4 to $4,25, it having been sold at the first named price by the establishment from which the House now considered emanated. This fact is well known to ourselves and others who were engaged at the time as operatives on the identical article. The next movement was subsequent to the substitution of the nutria fur, in place of the muskrat, and upon a slight advance in the cost of the former article, (equal possibly to 25 cents per hat,) when said concern immediately raised the price of their article 75 cents per hat, or to $5. At which high price, yielding large profit, the article has been maintained by them.

SECOND-" Improvement of quality and taste." We gran the truth of this position, but in so doing claim for ourselves and a few other makers, equal zeal and success. THIRD-" Standard of Fashions for the United States, in epeadent of European." Upon this we remark that, whatever may have been the design of the establishment, its practice has not tended to such a result. We remind gentlemen of the fact that the fashion of the Spring of '41 wis the model of a hat worn by a distinguished fashionable foreigner, and was by this same house named the D'Orsay style. Again, the fashion of the present season, adopted by the same establishment, our own, and others, is but a slight modification of the prevailing Paris style, And it is well known that our city fashions of late years, as in our earlier history, have been in most cases but slight variations from European styles.

The next paragraph in the article requires a slight notice We cannot pass it, without remarking that the $5 Hat spoken of is not, never was, and cannot be made equal in value to the fermer, $5 to $10 beaver Hat, as has been too often stated by interested persons. It, however, deserves the popularity which it possesses. We call the attention of " (astrionable and genteel wearers, and true economists," to the fact, that this $5 article is produced by us, of the finest possible quarity, and in the most elegant style, at $4 25. We now notice the closing paragraph of the article. After announcing a new article of Hat, at a low price, the following language is used in relation to it: "It is infinitely cheaper when the respective qualities are compared, than any which have ever been offered to the public." This we most unqualifiedly affirm to be impossible. We have for the past two years been engaged in selling Hats of the first quality and styles, at lower prices than any other house. This we have thus far done, and we now positively affirm. that we are, by our peculiarly economical system of business, enabled to offer Gentlemen's Hats at less prices than with the extravagant system of business pursued by the house in ques tion, IT POSSIBLY CAN DO.

In conclusion we announce, that we shall as soon as arrangements can be effected, offer to the public, the kind of hat in question, of as fine quality, and in as elegant style, yet at a very decided reduction from the price at which it has been announced. 245 Broadway. Sept. 19th.

Orlando Fish, Fashionable Hatter, 137 Broadway, would inform the gentlemen of New York that his Fall and Winter style of Hats is now ready for their inspection and critical judgement. Claiming the distinction of baying been the first to project and abide by a strictly AMERICAN style of Hats, instead of servilely copying the Fashions of Europe, which are often unsuited to our climate and manners, he rejoices to perceive that others have seen fit to follow his lead, and that now the following of European Fashions in Hats is almost entirely abandoned by the leading manufacturers. He offers a Winter style of Gentlemen's Nutria Hats at $3 50, and warrants them equal in material, finish, fa-hien and durability to any Hat sold as low as $4 in the city. But he wishes it distinctly understood that his best Hats are not sold at this price, but at $4 50. These he recommends as equal to any hat sold in New-York at $5 or under, and challenges for them a comparison with any other.

Gentlemen visiting our city are respectfully invited to call and examine his new stock of Winter hats and judge of their quality. He is confirent that, whether the cheapest or the best Hat is desired, the inquirer will here be satisfied. O. FISH, 157 Broadway. Try him. (s20tf)

PARISIAN STYLE OF HATS. The attention of gentlemen is particularly invited to the subscriber's beautifully fabricated Silk Hats, better known as "Warnock's Moleskin Hats." This article, since its introduction, has rapidly acquired and successfully maintains its popularity, produced by the subscriber in a manner altogether superior to any of the kind that has been or is now before the public, and is worthy of notice as possessing all permanency of color, and capacity for service.

That the Moleskin Silk Hat possesses the very elements studiensly aimed at in the production of a perfect article, it needs only to be stated that the foundation or body is plush or covering of the finest quality sitk, than which, it will readily be admitted, there is nothing of the nature of fabric more durable. To gentlemen who have not given the above hats a trial, it is remarked that they have been for years the most popular, and are now almost exclusively the fashionable Hat of Paris-this, to say the least, is a strong recommendation. To such gentlemen as have preference for French manufacture, it is remarked that from the subscriber's observations during a recent visit to the French metropolis, he is enabled to say, that though in one or two particulars the French excel, yet in the main, the article sold by him is superior. The pattern for the fall and winter is at once a model of symmetry and beauty.

FOUR DOLLAR HATS. ent time, demanding of the mass of the community the adoption of retrenchment and economy, the subscriber deems it expedient, for the time being, to deviate somewhat from the system hitherto strictly adhered to in the conduction of his business, (that of selling none other than the first quality,) now offers to gentlemen disposed to economise, a superior hat at the moderate price of Four Dollars. This article possesses in a large measure the constituent parts of of Sugar and Coffee. Spices are inactive. At auction tothe most costly, prepared with all their neatsess and exter- day, 200 bags Rio Coffee, slightly damaged, sold at 61 a nal finish, and are sold at a small advance upon the cost They are " Hats for the Times."

An affair which looks exceedingly like a swindle came off this morning is the street. About a month siace, a person An advertisement, dated 15th inst., under the name of a calling himself S. S. Minturn engaged an office in No. 3 house of standing in the hat trade, being evidently to us, Hanover-street, and placing a tin sign on his door, commenc-(though covertiy) aimed at the character and prosperity of ed business as a broker, under the title of 'Minturn & Co. our establishment, (as being the only one engaged in the His windows were filled with the usual attractive labe'ssale of the finest quality of Nutria hats at a less price than Treasury Notes Wanted, 'Mobile Funds Wanted,' Exchange on London, '&c., but it does not appear that he was very successful in procuring customers. Yesterday he went to a broker in Wall street, Mr. Joseph Morrison, and tablishment we have had in view, and have strictly adhered | bought of him a bill on Mobile at 23 per cent. discount, and immediately sold it to another broker at 30 discount. This morning he sent to Mr. Morrison, saying he wanted $2,500 of Safety Fund, and would send his check for it. This was at 12 o'clock, after which, up to 4 o'clock, he did not make his appearance at his office, and Mr. M. is no doubt done out of his $2,500. Police officers were stationed at the boats meet weekly till after the election. leaving the city, but we have not heard that 'Minturn & Co.' were discovered. From the best information to be obtained, he doubtless took the office, and pretended to engage in business for the very purpose he has now accomplished. No one knows him. It appears he had no partner, no acquaintances called to see him, he did no business, had no books, no bank account, and the boy in his office never heard him speak of any frends or acquaintances, and knew not where he lived. He was certainly an adroit rogue, altogether too much so to keep out of the Penitentiary.

A rumor which has been set affoat that the James Bank had again suspended is entirely unfounded. It is still re-deemed by Bertine & Vanderhoff, Wall-street. The motive which originated the report is well known, and grew out of the following facts: It seems that it is the custom among brokers to pass money from one to another in bundles without counting, the amount being marked on each bundle .-A broker on the north side of the city became somewhat notorious for claiming 'shorts'-that is, asking to be paid amounts, more or less, which he stated the bundles he received were short. It never happened, however, unaccoun able as it may seem, that the bundles he received were over. This thing getting to be unendurable, a trap was set to test the accuracy of the broker's count. Messrs, B. & V. marked one bundle less than it actually contained. This they heard nothing from, but when they sent the next bundle, enough short to cover the surplus in the other, a claim was immediately made for the difference. The ruse was then explained, and in revenge, the broker alluded to has since been endeavoring to injure the James Bank. The following statement of the Greenwich Bank is from SPENCER'S Sales Room. IF Hats! Hats! Hats!-FALL PASHION .-The subscriber invites the attention of the Beau Monde to his beautiful, graceful, and tasteful low bell-crowned Hat, being the only really lashianable article of the kind extant, though he cannot expect but imitators will spring up, and claim the benefit of his own original conceptions.

To say that these Hats surpass any thing of the kind in point of sayle, finish, and graceful appearance, is to claim no more than is warranted by an experience of twenty years in the business, and he invites gentlemen who study grace and fashion, to call and examine for themselves.

A large assortment of Traveling Trunks, Carpet Bags, Hat Cases, and, in fact, every thing necessary for a gentleman's traveling outfit, may also be found at the production of the BLOWER'S 179 Broadway.

E. BLOOMER'S, 179 Broadway, opposite Howard's Hotel. Also, Moleskin Hats, at $3.00; Beavers at $4.50; Cassimere and Nutria Hats, at $3.50 each; these are his standard prices, and he need only remark that by confining himself to one quality and price for each descripcomming minises to one quanty and piece to each exception of this, he is enabled to furnish a superior article at prices (ar below those at which Hats of the same description are now vending by other manufacturers.

A steady and permanent increase of patronage for the last 7 years is a sufficient indication of public judgement, and constitutes the best test of their merits.

NEW-YORK MUSEUM opens this day, under the management of Mr. BENNETT, who respectfully aspounces that he has taken the above establishment, and that he intends to adopt an entirely new plantatis, to reduce the price and increase the attractions. He feels confident that his system must succeed, and cheerfully submits it to the decision of a discerning public. To remove any impression that may be enterained that it is not genteel to attend a shilling exhibition, the Manager begs to observe that the price of admission is no criterion of its respectability; the way in which it is conducted, and the performances presented is the proper standard to judge by. In the paincipal cities on the continent of Europe the rates of admission to theatres, and other places of amusement, is fifty per cent, cheaper than in England. All classes of society assemble—the highest and the lowest—the moderate charge placing it in the power of the latter—yet no one attempts to dispute the respectability of the performance. In the public gardens of Paris there is no price of admission—they are frequented by every body-yet or-der and decorum prevails, and the Manager maintains that first respectability may attend with as great a degree o safetyas if the price of admission were testimes the amount.

The Manager trusts that the following names will be a
